

- Name: Yong Suk Cho M.D.
- Current Position: Associate Professor of Burn Surgery, Hallym University College of Medicine
- Country: Korea
- Educational Background:
1993-1999 M.D., The Dong-Guk University, School of Medicine, Korea
- Professional Experiences:
1999-2004 Intern & Resident Trainee in General surgery,
Hangang Sacred Heart Hospital, Seoul, Korea

2007-2008 Fellowship in Burn surgery, Burn center, Hangang Sacred Heart Hospital, Seoul, Korea

2009-2013 Assistant Professor in Burn surgery, Burn center,
Hangang Sacred Heart Hospital, Seoul, Korea

2014- Present Associate Professor in Burn surgery, Burn center,
Hangang Sacred Heart Hospital, Seoul, Korea
- Professional Organizations:
  1. The Korean Surgical Society
  2. The Korean Burn Society
  3. The Korean Society of Critical Care Medicine
  4. The Korean Society of Traumatology
  5. The Korean Society for Parenteral and Enteral Nutrition
  6. The Korean Wound Management Society
- Fields of Interest:
  1. Critical care medicine, especially major trauma and burn: general care, nutritional support, etc
  2. Bio-engineered tissue substitutes
- Main Scientific Publications:
  1. Effectiveness of wound healing using the novel collagen dermal substitute INSUREGRAF®
RSC adv. 2016,6,59692-59701
  2. Evaluation of diagnostic biomarkers for acute kidney injury in major burn patients
Ann Surg Treat Res. 2015 88(5):281-83.
  3. The application of cultured epithelial auto graft improves survival in burns
Wound Repair Regen. 2015 23(3):340-4.
  4. Use of parenteral colistin for the treatment of multiresistant Gram-negative organisms in major burn patients in South Korea Infection 2012 40(1): 27-33